To the Rotary Club

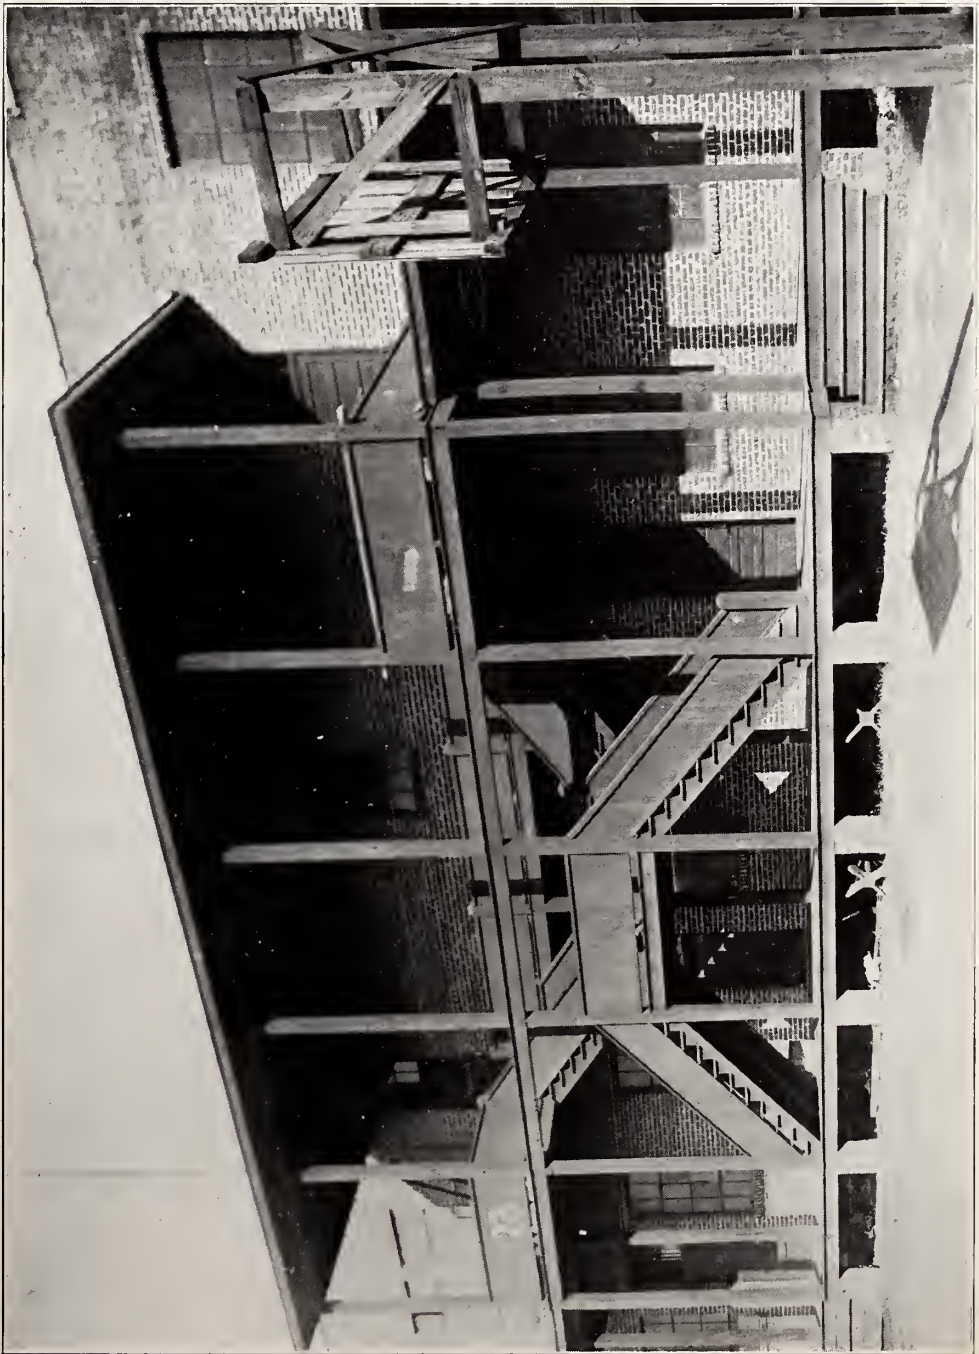

THERE'S an organization in Raleigh, N. C.
It's the very best club in our town.
It stands for the best and its members are true,
Such a fine one could never be found.

It is always on hand for protection and help.
And its best to the good it will give—
Here's to a club—the very best club—
The Rotary! Long may it live.

Theresa Teiser, '23.

HERE have passed now, some four or five years during which each succeeding class that has graduated from the Raleigh High School has confidently expected to receive its hard-won sheepskins from the platform of an auditorium within a High School building adequate to the needs of the boys and girls of Raleigh. Like many another rosy dream, however, this one has faded to a delicate pink slenderness as year after year has passed away, and the new building has failed to materialize. Perhaps the men and women of Raleigh are making their best efforts to produce an efficient schoolhouse for their boys and girls, but to those boys and girls it seems that the real issue has been lost in a fog of disagreement. To them the vital question is not, "Where shall the High School be?" but, "When shall the High School be?" The student body of the Raleigh High School is one of the most capable in the State. Its activities are known and recognized throughout the State; and these activities are of every sort, well-rounded and all-inclusive. Most of the student body who have left the High School and have entered the colleges of the State, and of other States, have made enviable records for themselves in all lines of college activities. These records have been made not because of the advantages these students have been offered in their High School, but in spite of the disadvantages under which they have worked. The thought naturally comes to one as to what they might do if their city provided them with the proper facilities, the ordinary facilities, of school life. If the citizen body of Raleigh could, for one brief day, put itself in the place of the student body of Raleigh, the discussions and dissensions over the New High School would vanish into nothingness, and the Raleigh High School class of 1924 would receive its diplomas in a new and modern building worthy of the State's Capital City.

MRS. NINA HOLLAND COVINGTON

"Thou wert my guide, my philosopher and friend."

Literary critic, journalist and school teacher, Mrs. Covington is loved by the entire student body, and is noted as an excellent teacher. She received her A. B. and M. A. degrees at Roanoke College, Virginia, and before coming to R. H. S., was head of the English Department at Elizabeth College. Mrs. Covington is not only an instructor to her pupils but is also a sympathetic friend who is always willing to help all who need her assistance. She has encouraged us in everything, and has helped to ease the rough places in our High School life.

MISS EDITH RUSSELL

*"Grace was in all her steps, heaven in her eye,
In every gesture dignity and love."*

History would probably have been a "bugbear" for most of us if Miss Russell hadn't made it the most broadening study imaginable. Outside of school, she is back of all our undertakings. The fine spirit on the side lines can be traced to her influence, and our dramatic productions have been successful only because of her help and kindness, for they would have been impossibilities had she not sacrificed her time and energy. It is Miss Russell who has been friend and pal to us, and who has an undying place in our happiest memories.

ARTHUR BIGELOW PEACOCK—"ART."

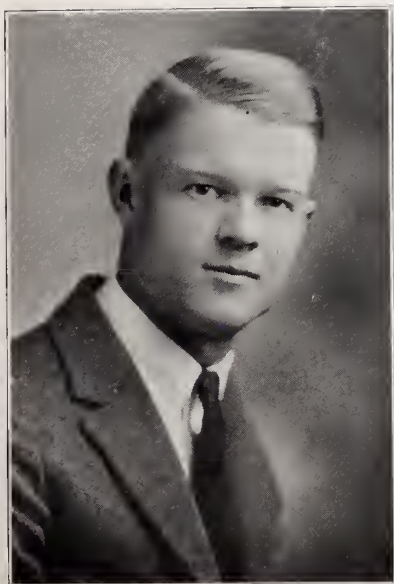

"Wise to resolve, and patient to perform."

President Class, 4; Lewis Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Hi-Y, 2, 3, 4; President Junior, 3; President Senior, 4; Science Club, 2, 3, 4; Athletic Association, 2, 3, 4; Orchestra, 1, 2, 3, 4; Debating Squad, 3; Basketball Squad, 3; Class Basketball, 3; Track Squad, 3.

Next to the President of U. S. A. we rank the President of the Class of '23. Arthur is not only our President, but also our "best all-round boy"—quite a distinction, which shows what we really think of him. His friends—as his good qualities—are very numerous, and his record at R.H.S. is one that he can well be proud of. "Art" intends to continue his studies at Wake Forest, where, we feel certain, he is to continue his fine record.

ELMER WILLARD ATKINS

"Men of few words are the best men."

Athletic Association 1, 2, 3, 4; Baseball Squad, 3, 4.

Elmer has that quiet, unassuming attitude which makes the gentleman. Reserved in his conversation, he abides calmly in our midst, enjoying our greatest respect. Our good wishes go with Elmer. May good fortune follow him as liberally.

DAISY ELIZABETH BAGWELL

"A miracle of noble womanhood."

Morson Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club, 1, 4; Girl Reserves, 3; Girl Scouts, 2; Girls' Athletic Association, 3, 4; Secretary, 4; Athletic Association, 1, 2; Class Basketball, 2, 4; Manager, 4; Varsity Basketball, 2, 3, 4; Manager, 4; Track Team, 3; Baseball, 3; Science Club, 3.

For enthusiasm apply at Daisy's door. If cheering helped win our football games, Daisy is about one-third responsible for our success—"Little Girl" claiming one-third, and the team the other. On the basketball floor, Daisy twinkles brightly, playing with her whole soul and mind. In fact, she enters everything in that fashion, and we know that such an attitude points straight to a happy, successful life—it must be so for Daisy.

LEO HARDING BAGWELL—"SHORTY"

*"His life was gentle, and the elements
So mixed in him, that Nature might stand up
And say to all the world, 'This was a man.'"*

Athletic Association, 1, 2, 3, 4; Lewis Literary Society, 1, 2, 4; Hi-Y, 3, 4; Declamation Contest, 1, 2, 4; Basketball Team, 2, 3, 4; Football Team, 3, 4; Manager, 3; Track Team, 2, 3, 4; Manager, 2, 3; Captain, 4; School Play, 3; Baseball, 4; Glee Club, 4.

An all-round sport "we call" Leo. He is a leader in athletics, and takes a prominent part in all the school activities. Leo is an actor also, showing up well in Shakespearcan drama. We understand that it is his intention to become an engineer. If he carries out this intention that profession will gain some fine material and a true gentleman.

JOSEPHINE BAKER—"JOE"

*"Give me a look, give me a face
That makes simplicity a grace."*

Morson Literary Society, 1; Glee Club, 1; Girl Reserves, 3; Girl Scouts, 2; Class Basketball, 4.

A girl who is always smiling is Josephine. She likes plenty of fun, but knows the right time in which to have it. She is always good in school—never has to waste time in the "Detention Room." Josephine is just one "good girl," and all who know her like her.

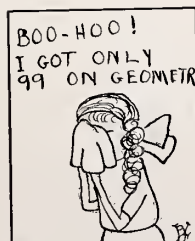

MOZELLE BAKER—"MADAMOISELLE"

"In the right place is her heart."

Morson Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Chaplain, 3.

In spite of the fact that Mozelle has been with us all four of our High School years, few of us really know her. This is probably because she keeps her fine qualities deep in her heart, and, although they are always ready, we cannot really know how very fine they are. We do know, however, that "Madamoiselle" is a truly sweet girl, and her cheerful presence has meant a lot to us.

MARY MCGHEE BEASLEY

"The mildest manners and the gentlest heart."

Morson Literary Society, 2, 3, 4; Critic, 2; Girls' Reserves, 3; Dramatic Club, 3.

Another quiet, business lady of our class is Mary. Her sweet reserve has been hard to penetrate, as she has gone her own way in her own fashion. Mary always stands behind our school activities, ready and willing to help. Since she is taking a business course, we imagine she intends to be a business woman, and we know that if she enters it, the business world will gain a truly capable person.

DONALD EDWARD BEATH

"How sweet and sacred idleness is!"

"Beef" is a star in the heaven of mathematics—just ask Mr. Wessinger. If he makes an A+ on a test he wants to take it over to make a better grade. "Beef," like his brother who graduated in '21, has become a well-known figure during his two years with us.

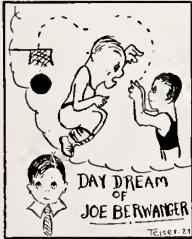

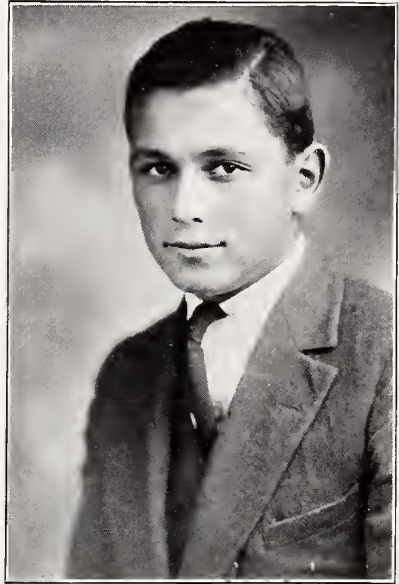

JOSEPH GERSHEIM BERWANGER—"NODIE"

"He was full of joke and jest."

Lewis Literary Society, 1, 3; Orchestra, 1, 3, 4; Track Team, 2, 3; Football Squad, 2, 3, 4; Basketball Squad, 3; School Play 3; Class Basketball, 3; Senior Play, 4.

Joe is another all-round person. He has been a constant member of the football and basketball squads, and an active member of the Lewis Literary Society and the Dramatic Club, having taken rather important roles in some of our plays. Joe has indeed won a secure place in our memories of R. H. S.

MAE CORNELIA BLACKWOOD—"SPACK"

"And she has the truest, kindest heart."

Cary High—Y. W. C. A., 1; Irving Literary Society, 1. R. H. S.—Morson Literary Society, 2, 4; Dramatic Club, 2; Girl Scout, 2; Athletic Association, 1, 2.

To her classmates, Mae has been a witty, happy and encouraging companion, and, being such, has won many R. H. S. students for lasting friends. Mae is one of Miss Lee's most accomplished students. It would indeed pay anyone of Raleigh's business men to add her to his office force.

MARTHA ELIZABETH BRINKLEY—"IT"

"Sweetly did she speak and move."

Cary High School—Irving Literary Society, 1, 2, 3; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3; Glee Club, 3; Dramatic Club, 3.

Elizabeth added her name to our roll just this year. "It" appeared on the one at Cary for the other three. Few of us know Elizabeth. We understand that her heart is floating out on the high seas with a certain blue uniform. That's tellin', isn't it? At any rate, we now claim "It" as one of our accomplished business students and, being such, we expect to see her shining in the business world, if the blue uniform permits "It."

MILDRED ELOISE BROCKWELL—"LOUISE"

"Her modest looks the cottage might adorn, Sweet as the primrose peeps beneath the thorn."

Morson Literary Society, 1, 2, 4; Glee Club, 1; Dramatic Club, 2; Girl Scout 2; Orchestra, 4; Senior Play.

Louise's disposition is as sunny as her hair, which, by the way, is the object of much envy among the fairer sex. Her musical accomplishments have been the source of much entertainment both in school performances and outside affairs. Her favorite pastime is reading, her chief delight dancing, and her ideal, Miss Tillett. Louise is a splendid combination of student, musician and sport—a thoroughly charming, dependable girl, with a sweet personality.

CICELY CUSHMAN BROWNE

"Her voice was ever soft, gentle and low."

Morson Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Girl Scouts, 2; Girl Reserves, 3; Athletic Association, 2, 3, 4.

Cicely is rather renowned for her soft voice. Its low tones, never raised, soothe the nerves of all about her, while in the class room the knowledge it emits startles us all to attention. Cicely is a strong "backer," and takes an active part in many of the school activities. We will miss her quiet presence when the doors of R. H. S. close behind us.

JAMES ALLEN BROWN

"I know the gentleman to be of worth and worthy estimation."

Orchestra, 4; Boys' Glee Club, 4.

James is the quiet worker of our class, and is a gentleman to the core. He ranks with the best of students, and also as one of the most highly esteemed of the student body. His business-like air, along with a friendly personality, marks him for a successful career. In truth, "'tis he fulfills great Nature's plan."

HENRY COLEY—"SKEET"

"A guardian angel o'er his life presiding, Doubling his pleasures and his cares dividing."

Football Squad, 1; Team, 2, 3, 4; captain, 4;
Basketball Squad, 1; Team, 3, 4; Senior Play, 1;
School Play, 2.

Did you say football? "Skeet" knows it all. Nobly did he lead our team through the most successful season R. H. S. has had in many a long year. And football isn't all, for "Skeet" plays all the other sports with astonishing skill. Behind the footlights we again find him starring, playing everything from a New York Bowery lad to an English gentleman. His happy-go-lucky personality makes him a favorite everywhere, and here we all join to give fifteen "rahs" for "Skeet" and his success in the world outside of R. H. S.

HELEN FRANCES CORNWELL—"HEL'"

"O, that's the lassie o' my heart."

Class Basketball Team, 2; Morson Literary Society, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club, 4; Science Club, 2; Tennis Club, 3; Girl Scouts, 2; Girl Reserves, 3, 4; Dramatic Club, 3; Athletic Association, 3, 4.

When one looks at Helen one can see only two great, big brown eyes, bubbling over with fun. We don't believe that Helen ever had the "blues"—she seems able to find the cheerful side of anything and everything. She is a staunch supporter of R. H. S. in every way, and also of N. C. State College. We are inclined to wonder why. Perhaps you can explain.

DESSIE MARIE COUNCIL

"And I oft have heard defended—Little said is soonest mended."

Morson Literary Society, 1.

Dessie is a girl with an unusual disposition. She is always smiling, and willing to help her classmates wherever she can. She doesn't often get "frustrated," for she takes life as it comes. With such a disposition we are sure Dessie will succeed and continue to make many friends.

MAUD LAVADA COUNCIL—"VADA"

"No storm ever ruffled the current of her life."

Quiet and unobtrusive, yet always ready with a smile and a helping hand—such is Vada. Like her sister, she takes the "course of human events" as they come, and seldom tangles the threads of fate. She is one of our commercial students who has the best wishes of the class for success.

ELLIS WINSTON COVINGTON

"I grow in worth, and wit, and sense."

French Club, 3; Morson Literary Society, 2, 3, 4; Program Committee, 3; Social Committee, 3; President, 4; Ho'Mart, 3; Athletic Association, 2, 3, 4; Girl Reserves, 3; Society Editor Purple and Gold, 4; Purple and Gold Staff, Junior edition; Writer of Last Will and Testament, 4; Literary Editor RATTLER; Glee Club, 1.

"Here she comes and there she goes"—that's Ellis, the cutest girl in the Senior Class. Full of pep, fun, and mischief, Ellis has won a host of friends through her High School career. She is an excellent student, with a fine school spirit. As President of the Morson Literary Society, and on both Annual and magazine staffs, Ellis has "done her bit." In the Senior play she proved her ability in another line. A fine mixer, with considerable literary talent, makes the future full of promise for Ellis.

CATHERINE HOLT COX—"C2"

*"Though on pleasure she was bent,
She has a frugal mind."*

Morson Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Ho'Mart, 3; Glee Club, 1; Athletic Association, 2, 3, 4; Marshal, 3; Dramatic Club, 3; Girl Reserves, 3; Secretary Class, 4; Triangular Debate, 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball Squad, 2; Senior Play, 4.

Behold our vamp! C² walks in and a lot of hearts get jumbled up. Down to brass tacks, though, C² is fine. She has captured no little praise by her successful debating. Entering all the literary work of the school, she has made herself very valuable, while her steady support of athletics puts a fine rounding touch to her activities. Catherine is another prospective lawyer, and we expect to see her in Congress—if she manages to steer clear of the altar.

MARY FRANCES CRAVEN

"Her voice is like the evening thrush."

Athletic Association, 1, 2, 3, 4; Morson Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Girl Scouts, 2; Girl Reserves, 3, 4; Ho'Mart, 3; Glee Club, 4.

In Mary Frances we find a successor to Frida Hempel. Her voice has charmed us all and her captivating personality greatly endeared her to us. Mary Frances is also among our literary workers, and has helped much with her posters and similar pieces of art. If you happen to be looking for Mary Frances, just stand still and listen for Nell's chatter. If you follow that you'll find Mary near at hand.

JOHN WILLIAM CRINKLEY

"I would make Reason my guide."

Literary Society, 1, 2; R. H. S.—Science Club, 3, 4; Glee Club, 4.

Although John has been with us only two years, he has won an undisputed place in our hearts by his pleasing disposition and astonishing intelligence. John is a scientific enthusiast, and we are all very enthusiastic in our hopes that he discover the exact size of a molecule.

JEANNETTE ANDREWS CROWDER—"JAC"

"A quiet, diligent worker."

A. H. S.—Basketball, 1; R. H. S.—Morson Literary Society, 2.

Jeannette is envied by quite a few less fortunate members of '23 for her scholastic abilities. She is one of us who has no cause to worry about the stability of her diploma. "Jac" came to us in our Sophomore year, and has ever since enjoyed our greatest respect because of the way she stars in all her studies. She knows too much to let her knowledge lie dormant, and so we expect to see her in the teaching profession.

ROSA NELL CURRIN

"In fellowship well could she laugh and chatter."

Morson Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Dramatic Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Girl Scout, 2; Girl Reserves, 3; Junior Cheer Leader, 3; Ho'Mart, 3; Glee Club, 4; Athletic Association, 1, 2, 3, 4.

"What is perpetual motion?"
"Nell's tongue."

But what, pray, would our high school days have been without the cheerful accompaniment of Nell's chatter? The "blues" can never flourish within the sound of Nell's voice—everything becomes a harmonious blend of fun and work, and surely it is that blend which the world needs. Nell, here's to you!

DOROTHY LEWIS DELAMATER—"DOT"

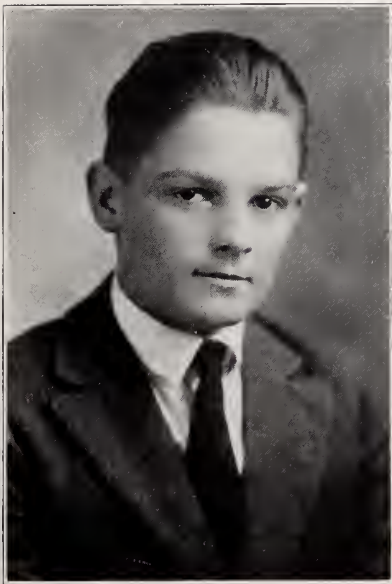

*"Judge thou me by what I am
So shalt thou find me fairest."*

Morson Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Critic, 3; Social Committee, 3, 4; Dramatic Club, 3; Glee Club, 4; Basketball Varsity, 3, 4; Captain, 4; Girl Reserves, 3; Hiking Committee Chairman; Athletic Association, 1, 2, 3, 4; Sponsor Football, 2; RATTLER Staff, 4.

"To know her was to love her," and only knowing her can convey what "Dot" really is. She plays a fine game at basketball and tennis. On the Annual staff she has made herself invaluable. She is a true sport, giving and taking the good times, yet ready to work and always keeping the two from conflicting. Dorothy enjoys life, and all around must, her happiness is so contagious. Oh! "Dot" is just "Dot," as attractive as can be, and has everybody "wild" about her.

WILLIAM NICHOLAS DENTON—"BILLIE"

"A social, friendly, honest man."

Athletic Association, 1, 2, 3, 4; Lewis Literary Society, 3, 4; Hi-Y; Orchestra, 4; Glee Club, 4; Senior Play, 4.

Though small in stature, Billie is a regular giant in the opinion of the Class of '23. He is another of the great cast that made our Senior play such a success. Billie certainly is a good sick soldier—especially when attended by a cute little nurse. He has a jolly, friendly personality, and is a faithful follower of Fun. Billie is a genuine friend to and of the whole class.

BRUCE ADAMS DIXON

*"He is a brooch, indeed,
And gem of all the nation."*

Well, well! Here's our Beau Brummell. "Clothes make the man," they say, but there is a great deal to Bruce beside good clothes and good looks. (He's Senior beauty, y'know). He is a gentleman, and neither clothes nor looks do that. Bruce is our "ladies' man," and is quite the "social stuff." He has a whole host of friends and admirers who will wish him well as he leaves old R. H. S.

HAYWOOD DAIL DIXON—"OLD LADY"

"See what a grace was seated on this brow."

Athletic Association, 1, 2, 3, 4; Athletic Council, 2, 3; Treasurer, 3; Hi-Y, 2, 3, 4; President Junior, 4; Deputation Team, 3, 4; Football Squad, 4; Manager, 3; Annual Staff, 4; Senior Play; Glee Club, 4.

When you need some heart-felt, truly enthusiastic and effective boosting for athletics—or any other activity—see "Old Lady." On the field, in the class room, and on the Annual Staff, he has shown us how much school spirit we all ought to have.

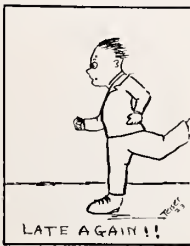

As the hero in the Seniorplay, he was "the stuff!" All in all, "Old Lady" is indeed a fine fellow, and his classmates think a great deal of him.

GILBERT TAYLOR DORSETT

"Deeds, not words."

Gilbert is a quiet sort of boy who, we often find when we get to the bottom of things, is responsible for a good bit of the best influence. Few of us have really known Gilbert, but those who have, bring us reports which lead us to believe that he will one day be a "man of the world."

LLOYD BERNARD EISENHART—"IZZY"

"He was a friend to me."

Athletic Association, 2, 3, 4; Basketball, 2, 3; "R" Club, 2, 3, 4.

"Izzy" has an exceedingly friendly personality which has won many friends for him—he has no enemies. His athletic accomplishments include a superb "rep" on our superb baseball team, and a place on our basketball squad. "Izzy" is a loud talker, but has the great asset of knowing when to quit, and this rare quality assures him a successful place in the business world.

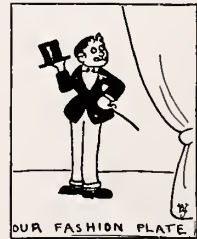

ERNEST FRANKLIN

"An absolute gentleman, full of most excellent differences, of soft society and great showing."

Athletic Association, 2, 3, 4; Science Club, 3; Hi-Y, 4.

Although Ernest is generally believed to be bashful when it comes to ladies, we know differently. He cannot, however, claim any bashfulness in his books, for he possesses a mind that is very close to brilliancy in its functioning. Ernest is not only a good scholar, but a pal with a fine disposition, and in spite of his supposed bashfulness, has many friends who wish him well.

THELMA MARY FRAZIER

*"If she is not more than painting can express
Or youthful poets fancy when they love?"*

Morson Literary Society, 1, 2, 4; Girls' Athletic Association, 3, 4; Girl Scout, 2; Dramatic Club, 4; Athletic Association, 1, 2, 3, 4.

Brown eyes and hair like Thelma's would make anyone pretty, but only Thelma has 'em. Though rather quiet around the school, she laughs and talks as gayly as anyone when the occasion offers itself. We have never seen her out of temper. She always has that same ready smile for us all. A sweet disposition, plenty of good looks, and a general love for fun—that characterizes Thelma, and what else could one wish for?

MARY ROLLAND GLENN—"LIL MARY"

"A rosebud set with little wilful thorns,
And sweet as Southern air could make her."

Morson Literary Society, 1, 3, 4; Girls' Athletic Association, 3, 4; Press Reporter, 3; President, 4; Associate Editor Purple and Gold, 3; Alumni Editor, 4; Ring Committee, 3; Marshal, 3; Associate Editor-in-Chief Newspaper Items, 4; Class of Journalism, 4; Junior Red Cross Committee 4; Treasurer of Class, 4; Commencement invitation Committee, 4.

Mary is generally very sweet and calm (not too sweet or too calm, however, to be far from Fun and his followers), but every now and then she shows us how pretty brown eyes can be when their owner is "peeved." Though a fine student, Mary seldom worries with studies. She is one of our literary geniuses, and is exceedingly well-read. Mary is a fine pal with many friends who hope to continue the friendship as she goes on to a successful career.

MARY WETHERELL GORMAN

"Thy soul is like a star and dwelt apart."

Morson Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Girl Reserves, 3, 4; Ho'Mart, 3; Debating Club, 3, 4.

Although very quiet, Mary does her work steadily and exceedingly well. Her compositions are famed in R. H. S. for their true literary value. We wish we knew her better, but the fact that we don't doesn't keep us from realizing what a help she is to the Class of '23. She is one of the sweetest girls in the class, and has always been found willing to help any and everyone of us.

WILLA NOVELLA GREY

"Swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath."

Morson Literary Society, 1, 4; Dramatic Club, 2; Girl Reserves, 3; Ho'Mart Club, 3; Glee Club, 4; Debating Club, 4.

Willa was among the Triangular debaters last year, and no doubt would have been this year had not other important activities of her Senior year pushed it out of her time. She is a splendid commercial student, indeed one of the best, and we know success is certain in her career, however brief, and in her entire future, for there are rumors of Richmond and—bells. Whether Christmas bells, cow bells, or some other kind, only time will reveal.

EVA BELLE GURLEY

"I hate nobody, I am in charity with the world."

Glee Club, 3; Morson Literary Society, 2; Girl Reserves, 3; Girl Scout, 2; Basketball Class.

Eva seldom tells her middle name—she doesn't like it, and we can't see why, for it seems to suit. Although quiet and reserved, she is always ready to help in the good times. She has such a quiet way of doing things that one does not see her work until it is finished. She makes a charming friend and a good pal.

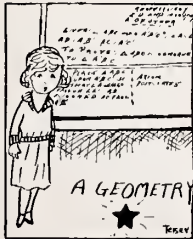

ROSALIE HALES

"A simple maiden in her flower."

Pine Level High School—Athenian Literary Society, 1, 2, 3; Basketball Team, 3.

Rosalie is one of those who joined us in this last year, and she certainly has been a valuable addition. She is one of Mr. Morson's chief delights, for she always knows her Latin—Virgil, at that! The year has been too short for us to know her well, but we suppose Rosalie will be a successful Latin teacher with a pleasant manner that will make her classroom a jolly place.

FRANCES WARD HANDY—"MIGHTY"

"She serves best who serves most."

Morson Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Secretary-Treasurer, 1; Critic, 2; President, 2; Treasurer, 3; Vice-President, 3; Girl Reserves, 3, 4; Social Squadron Committee Chairman, 3; Athletic Association, 1, 2, 3, 4; Girls' Athletic Association, 3, 4; Vice-President, 3; Glee Club, 1, 4; Ho'Mart Club, 3; Student Athletic Council, 3; Vice-President Dramatic Club, 3, 4; Assistant Business Manager Purple and Gold, 3; Editor-in-Chief Purple and Gold, 4; Science Club, 4; President Sophomore Class, 2; Vice-President Senior Class, 4; Editor Raleigh Times High School Page, 4; Marshal, 3; Senior Play; Sponsor Basketball 3.

H'm! Doesn't the above list show what Frances is? She is another of the "stars" who made our Senior play such a "bloomin'" success. As best all-round, friendliest and most popular girl you have the class's opinion of her. Frances is a good student, a pal, and a sport—all in all "she's the stuff," and is certainly "Mighty Handy" in every way.

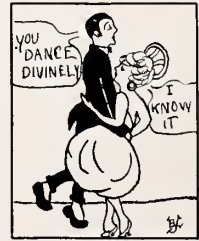

Alice Elizabeth Hedrick—"PUD"

"A girl
Looks freshest in the fashion of the day."

Athletic Association, 2; Girl Scouts, 2; Dramatic Club, 2; Morson Literary Society, 2, 4; Class Basketball, 2; Girl Reserves, 3.

Alice! Even the name suggests wonderful things, and our Alice is all it suggests and more. "Pud," as her intimate friends know her, has a splendid school spirit, for she supports the athletics, (here as well as at State), the magazine, and all other school activities. On class she is quiet and reserved, and her work is fine. It takes these good traits to make a good student, and outside to have all the college boys at one's command.

Lillian Louise Hilker—"SKEETER"

"My girl she's airy, she's buxom and gay."

Athletic Association, 1, 2, 3, 4; Morson Literary Society, 2, 4; Glee Club, 1; Girl Reserves, 3.

Lillian is a business student, and we believe that she is going to make a wonderful stenographer for someone's office. Though studying is not her favorite pastime, to see her "thrilled to death" just produce something that looks like a Hi-Rocket. She seems to like Durham, and we wonder what attraction there is in that city for an R. H. S. student. We'll let that pass, however, since Lillian is such a "good ole gal" that we think more of her than she can possibly think of Durham.

ODESSA MADALE HIGHTOWER—
 "LIL HIGHTOWER"

"A merry heart maketh a cheery countenance."

B. S. H. S.—Glee Club, 1, 2; Art, 1, 2; Ramseur Literary Society, 1, 2, 3; Drama, 1, 2. C. H. S.—Glee Club, 1; Drama, 1. R. H. S.—Glee Club, 4.

Odesa didn't come to us until this year, but we soon discovered that she belongs among the jolly members of our class. Though she appears to be rather reserved and quiet, after a few moments' conversation one finds her exceedingly lively and full of fun. One of the many regrets that will be ours when we leave old R. H. S. will be that there is not another year in which to see more of our new friend.

DOROTHY EVELYN HARRIS—"SKEEZICKS"

*"To me more dear, congenial to my heart
 One native charm, than all the gloss of art."*

Morson Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4—Sec. 3; Athletic Association, 2, 3; Dramatic Club 3; Ho'Mart Club, 3; French Club, 3; Class Prophet, 4.

One hardly knows how to describe Evelyn. She has the distinction of being our most original member, and, therefore, there is no one like her. She stands ready to help anyone, and is one of the most brilliant girls in the class. Her themes are a delight to her teachers, and we expect great things of her in the literary line. Knowledge, however, is not her only attainment, for she knows how to have a good time and make one for others. She is, y'see, a sho'nough girl.

HUBERT HOLLAND

"And he pursued the noiseless tenor of his way."

Do you like radio? Well, in Hubert you will find a companion. If there is anything you don't know about it just ask him—he knows it all. We are expecting great things of Hubert in the field of scientific research, and we also expect to see his name associated with that of Marconi and Mr. Roller.

BELVA VAILE HUTCHINSON—"ANGEL FACE"

"The magic of a face."

D. H. S.—Cornelia Spencer Literary Society, 1, 2; Glee Club, 1, 2; Dramatic Club, 3; Blue Triangle Girls, 3; Hi-Rocket Staff, 4. R. H. S.—Science Club, 4; Athletic Association, 4; Morson Literary Society, 4; Orchestra, 4.

Belva Vaile has just come to us for our last year, and now we wonder how we managed before. Every entertainment or gathering of any kind has been flavored with "Angel Face's" powers as a pianist, and we know the orchestra couldn't get along without her. Besides being a past master with the "ivories," Belva knows how to enter into and make a good time. With her friendly personality she has won us all, and we feel sure that she will win in her career—which must be music.

Laura Bagwell Jones—"Annie Laurie",

"Learn'd and fair and good is she."

Morson Literary Society, 1, 2, 4; Purple and Gold Staff, 1, 2, 3; RATTLER Staff, 4; Girl Scout, 2; Athletic Association, 2, 3; Senior Play, 4.

Laura has the distinction of being one of the few girls in school who has a State College Senior ring. However we may envy her this distinction, our envy turns to pride in her when we think of the record she has made in the business department as one of Miss Lee's stars. Laura's finest characteristics are sincerity and dependability. Her art work for this Annual is highly commendable, as you can see, and it is by this talent that we expect to find her distinguishing herself.

MARY ELIZABETH JONES

"The two noblest things, which are sweetness and light."

Selma High School—Girls' Literary Society, 1. R. H. S.—Girl Scout, 2; Dramatic Club, 3; Morson Literary Society, 4; Glee Club, 4.

"Fate tried to conceal" a very nice girl by naming her Mary Jones, but it was a most unsuccessful effort. By reason of faithful application to duty, Mary has made an excellent record as a student of which anyone might be proud. She is serious and earnest in all she undertakes, and as for punctuality you can set your watch when you see her coming, for she is always on time.

FRANCIS DIXON JORDON—"DICK"

"A moral, sensible, and well-bred man."

Athletic Association, 1, 2, 3, 4; School Play, 3; Senior Play; Hi-Y, 4; Glee Club, 4.

Dixon is a steady-minded advocate of the things he believes to be right. He is another cheerful chap who takes life as it comes, and is thankful for it. He is full of fun, and is an expert at getting into mischief. Oh, yes! We hear that Dixon is going to be one of our Annapolis men, and we are convinced that he will represent our class admirably.

RICHARD WILSON JUSTICE—"DICK"

*"Thou of an independent mind
Who wilt not be, nor have a slave."*

Athletic Association, 1, 2, 3, 4; RATTLER Staff, 4; Purple and Gold Staff, 4; Class Prophet, 4; Historian, 4; Class Poet, 2.

Independence is Dick's middle name, but it doesn't keep him from being one of the most friendly and active members of '23. He's a poet, an artist and comedian—a real "Dick of all trades"—and in each of these roles has been of great value to the class. Indeed, Dick is fine, and we know that his path from R. H. S. through life is labeled "Success."

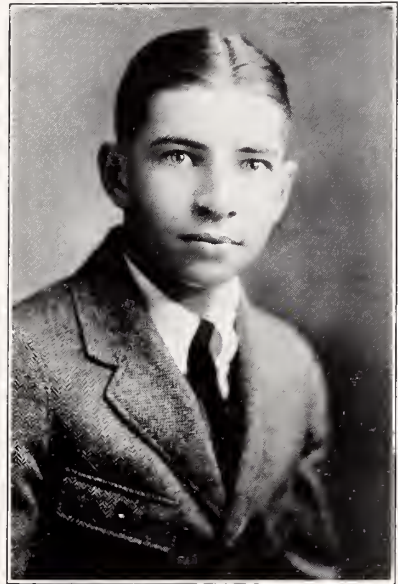

EDWARD McRALEIGH LANE—"MAC"

"He scatters enjoyment who can enjoy much."

Football, 4; Annual Staff, 4; Lewis Literary Society, 3; Athletic Association 1, 2, 3, 4; Senior Play, 4; Hi-Y, 4.

If you want to know where to find a second Bud Fisher, we'll tell you, for McRaleigh is known to us all as a better-than-good cartoonist. Although "Mac" stands pat on the policy of not letting his studies interfere with his outside life, he manages his lessons so that we know he will be successful in his college career and in his chosen profession.

WILLA DEAN LANE

*"Better heart there never beat
Sober, steadfast and demure."*

Morson Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Dramatic Club, 3; Glee Club, 1, 4; Girl Reserves, 3, 4; Athletic Association, 2, 3, 4

Willa Dean is one of the sweetest members of our class, who is always ready to do her part in everything that we undertake. She has winsome ways, a sweet disposition, and ideals that are hitched to the stars. Everyone who knows her loves, respects and admires her. We don't suppose it necessary to tell it, but she wears red and white with intense pride.

MARY VIRGINIA LASSITER

*"Humility, that sweet low root
From which all heavenly virtues shoot."*

Morson Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Girl Scout, 2; Girl Reserves, 3, 4; Science Club, 3, 4; Glee Club, 1, 4; Athletic Association, 2, 3.

Mary is one of our artistically inclined students. Her poster for "Good Speech Week" attracted no small amount of attention, and we understand that her drawings have won "ribbons" outside of R. H. S. Mary is a quiet student, but one who is interested in school life. She insists that art is her career, and we hope that this field will afford her an interesting and happy life.

MARTHA FOY LINEBERRY

"To follow knowledge like a sinking star, Beyond the utmost bound of human thought."

French Club, 3; Athletic Association, 1, 2, 3, 4. A girl who always knows her lessons, no matter what happens—that's Foy. She was voted the most studious girl in the class, a distinction which has been known as hers since she first entered R. H. S. She doesn't have time to participate much in the other activities of the school, but we know that she "backs" them all. To anyone who really knows her, Foy is a "sho, 'nough" good scout.

JOHN PESCOD LYNCH

'We may be as good as we please if we please to be good.'

Athletic Association, 1, 2, 3, 4; Tennis, 3.

Have you heard of the Boll Weevil Society? John is the Big Boll Weevil. He prefers the quiet life in School, and lets his work and disposition represent him. John represented us at the Athletic Meet at Chapel Hill, for he is indeed a star on the tennis court and, in our estimation, an altogether fine "sport."

NANCY BRUCE MCLEOD—"NAN"

"And from the field of her soul a fragrance celestial ascended; Charity, meekness, love, hope and forgiveness and patience."

Salem—Class Treasurer, 1; Y. W. C. A., 1; L. L. S., 1; Red Bank—English Club, 3; Chairman, 3.

Nancy is another new addition to the class, but with her quiet, sweet way she has slipped into a place that must have been waiting all these years for her. She has picked up the threads of our school life and skilfully adapted herself to all our activities. Nancy has a great future, we know—it is not everyone who can come to a different State and different people and win them as quickly and securely as she has done.

VERNON HALL MERRITT—"SOAPY"

"All his faults are such that one loves him still the better for them."

Lewis Literary Society, 1, 3; Science Club, 3, 4; Athletic Association, 1, 3, 4; Class Basketball, 3; Purple and Gold Staff, 4; Senior Play, 4.

"Soapy" has made many friends in his High School life, and has made life highly enjoyable for them with his ready humor. His favorite piece is the "Boll Weevil Blues," played on a shoe horn. When it comes to "parley-vousing" he can't be beat. We expect to see "Soapy" as U. S. Ambassador to the land of parley-vous.

ETHEL MARGARET MIMS

"True-hearted, whole-hearted, faithful and loyal."

Dramatic Club, 3; Glee Club, 4; Morson Literary Society, 4; Journalism Class, 4.

Ethel is a girl with a wonderful personality, and she never betrays a trust that is given her. She has plenty of ability that only her closest friends can detect, but who is there who doesn't know of her ability and talent for short-story writing? This talent has surpassed the great majority of High School students, and has won her considerable notice at R. H. S. Ethel never neglects a duty—unless it comes on Friday night—in which case, well, she has a good excuse, and so we'll not worry over that fact.

MARY ELIZABETH NEASE

'Ornament of meek and quiet spirit.'

Morson Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club, 4; Dramatic Club, 3; Girl Reserves, 3; Athletic Association, 3, 4.

Mary is a very quiet girl and, although easily angered, is just as easily calmed down. She is rather popular with N. C. State Freshmen and Seniors. Our only wonder is how often they would exceed her "three-visits-a-week allowance" if they could. At R. H. S., on the other hand, Mary has toiled for the four years of her High School life, and has won quite a few friends, who hope the whole course of her life will flow as quietly as her sweet nature deserves.

IONA MAUDE NELSON—"PEGGY"

"The heart to conceive, the understanding to direct and the hand to execute."

Athletic Association, 1, 2, 3, 4; Morson Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; President, 3; Dramatic Club, 2, 3; School Play, 2, 3; Glee Club, 1, 4; Ho'Mart, 3; Girls' Reserves, 3; Editor Junior Edition Purple and Gold, 3; Journalism Class, 4; Literary Editor Purple and Gold, 4; Editor-in-Chief RATTLER, 4.

A smile, a friendly word, a helping hand—that's "Peggy." She is endowed with a gift of leadership, and wherever there is anything to be done she is a willing and skillful helper. Her faithful and efficient work on the Annual is an excellent illustration of this. During her Sophomore year she won the heart of her audience by her excellent interpretation of the role of "Peggy" in "All of a Sudden Peggy," and she has been affectionately known as "Peggy" to her classmates ever since. We wish you success, classmate, and in your life may there be no discordant notes to break its sweet harmony.

LEWIS HILLSMAN PARHAM—"SQUAT"
*"To those who know thee not, no words can paint!
 And those who know thee, know all words are faint."*

Athletic Association, 1, 2, 3, 4; Lewis Literary Society, 2; Senior Play.

The "S" in "Squat" stands for "Service." Lewis has for three years been the "hand that rocked our destinies." He has divided our day into forty-five minute periods with an astonishing exactness. "Squat's" extravagant vocabulary has served as a battery for many a teacher's wrath which cannot last under its volley. Now the question is not merely, "What will R. H. S. do?" but also, "Who will ring the bells for us in the outside world when Louis is gone?"

CAROLYN ARNOLD PEACOCK

"Believe me, I speak as my understanding instructs me, and as mine honesty puts it to utterance."

Athletic Association, 2, 3, 4; Girls' Reserves, 3; Girl Scout, 2; Morson Literary Society, 2, 3, 4; Treasurer, 2; President, 3; Dramatic Club, 2, 3, 4; French Club, 3; Ho'Mart Club, 3; Chaplain, 3; Orchestra, 3; Raleigh Times High School Reporter, 4; Journalism Class, 4.

In a day of much affectation, much imitation in all things, it is an infrequent and refreshing experience to know a girl who is, at all times, sincerely and honestly herself. Intelligent, and without being unpleasantly so, plain spoken, yet tactful to a degree, Carolyn is a friend and classmate worth having.

ORIE PEARCE

"Little men build up great ones."

Orie is known for his quiet sarcasm and for his knack of making one almost positive that he is thinking. Though his carriage is not far-reaching, the tones of his trombone don't "miss it fer." Orie is good in his studies, and proved his athletic ability in the track squad in '22.

THELMA HAZEL PEELE

*"For a modest, graceful mien,
The like I never saw."*

*"Always give a smile, always give a 'Hey'
To a poor comrade on his weary way"*

Must be Thelma's motto, for she is everywhere seen putting it into practice. She never fails us with her smile and greeting, and we thank her for her pleasant encouragement, as we wish her success in her future, which we hope will keep the ready cheerfulness that has helped us so.

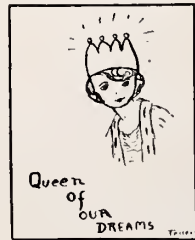

VIRGINIA PENNY—"GINGER"

"Her face is fair, her heart is true."

Morson Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Chaplain; Ho'Mart Club, 3; Girl Reserves, 3; Athletic Association, 1, 2, 3, 4; Girls' Athletic Association, 3, 4; Journalistic Club, 4; Invitation Committee, 4.

Behold our Queen! It's too bad that monarchs are out of style, for certainly Virginia was meant to be a queen—the Senior play proved that. We're glad, however, that she is only a make-believe queen, 'cause we couldn't know her if she happened to be a real one, and we could never manage without "Ginger" and her humor. "Ginger" is indeed a fine pal and a steady one, as her friendship with L'il Mary proves. We don't know what Virginia has planned for her future, but we all join to wish her the best one possible.

CANDICE OLIVE PITTMAN

"To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield."

Glee Club, 1; Athletic Association, 1, 2, 3, 4; Morson Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Secretary, 4; Ho'Mart Club, 3; Girl Scouts, 2; Girl Reserves, 3; Dramatic Club, 3; Journalism Class; Raleigh Times Reporter, 4.

Hail to the most ambitious girl in the class! We'll say she's ambitious, for she wants to teach Latin! She's the best kind of a friend, always willing to help. If anyone wants anything done, they may ask Olive, and rest assured that it will be done right. In other words, she's one of our most dependable classmates. Her marks are far above the average, and this speaks for her in itself.

VIRGIE OLIVE PRESNELL

"A jolly, unselfish personality is the greatest gift of all."

Morson Literary Society, 1, 4; Orchestra, 1; Girl Scout, 2; Athletic Association, 1, 2, 4; Science Club, 2; Glee Club, 4.

Were you looking for joy? Then you need look no further than Virgie, who is always ready with a smile and a joyous word or two that helps one so. In addition Virgie is always prepared to "shine" in the classroom. We could ask no more of anyone.

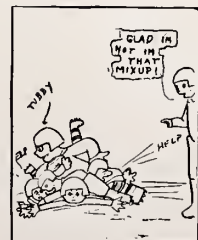

LYNWOOD EARL ROBBINS

"An honest man is always a child."

Athletic Association, 1, 2, 3, 4; Orchestra, 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club, 4; Hi-Y, 4; Football Team, 4; Science Club, 4; Senior Play.

"Tubby" played football this year for the first time, and made his letter, too. It takes about one-half of the opposing team to go through him. Lynwood is also a musician. He plays the violin in our orchestra, and is one of the main features in the Boys' Glee Club. "Tubby" is the possessor of about 225 pounds of good humor, good sport, and good friend.

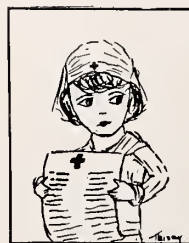

FLOY DELILAH ROWE

"In her tongue is the law of kindness."

Athletic Association, 1, 2, 3, 4; Morson Literary Society, 1, 4.

Floy came all the way from the mountains of Western North Carolina to join R. H. S. and the Class of '23. That in itself proves how smart she is. An earnest student, with all the qualities that go with that distinction, Floy is an actively interested participant in the social life of R. H. S. Her literary work has helped a lot, and this may be her field, but her patient nature makes her eligible for the teaching profession. Whatever it may be, may Fortune follow closely.

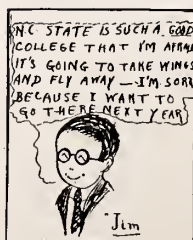

JAMES A. ROWLAND—"JIM"

*"He was a friend indeed,
With all a friend's best virtues."*

Athletic Association, 1, 2, 3, 4; Football Squad, 1; Team, 2; Captain-elect, 3; Baseball, 1, 2.

Jim is an interested participant in the academic and athletic activities of the school. He came to R. H. S. as a freshman, but left later, returning (and at that time proving his good sense), for his senior year. Jim has made a place in our class that could be filled by no one else. He is liked by one and all, and enjoys the deepest respect and truest friendship of the whole class.

MAMIE JOE RUSSELL

*"The mild expression spoke a mind
In duty firm, composed, resigned."*

Morson Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Class Basketball Team, 2, 3; Dramatic Club, 3, 4; Assistant Business Manager RATTLER, 4; Girl Scout, 2; Girl Reserves, 3; Girls' Athletic Association, 3; Athletic Association, 1, 2, 3, 4; Marshal, 3.

An excellent student is Mamie Joe, as her marks prove. One can always find her "backing" our teams with all her soul (and voice), while our literary activities have found her energies of great value. As one of the business managers of THE RATTLER Mamie Joe has done much to make it a financial success. To be sure, such a combination of student, sport and business woman is rare, and so we are expecting great things from Mamie Joe.

SWANNANOA SEARS

"Maiden with the meek, brown eyes."

Morson Literary Society, 1, 4; Science Club, 4.

Curls, curls, curls in profusion, and still there seems to be no end to Swannanoa's beautiful hair. She has, in addition, two marvelously clear, brown eyes, which carry a smiling greeting to her companions. Swannanoa was one of the court ladies in the senior play. If you saw it—and surely you did—you will agree that Swannanoa was one of the most beautiful. 'Fess up! Wasn't she?

MAUDE JUDD STINSON

*“And still the wonder grew,
That one small head could carry all she knew.”*

Morson Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Sec., 1; Treasurer, 1; Critic, 1, 2; Program Committee, 2, 3; Reporter Purple and Gold, 2, 3; Reporter RATTLER, 2, 3; Class Historian, 1, 2; Eko-L Short Story Contest, 1; Class Poet, 1; Glee Club, 1, 2; Cheer Squad, 2; Athletic Association, 1, 2, 3, 4; Dramatic Club, 2, 3; Program Committee, 3; Sophomore Editor Purple and Gold, 2; Science Club, 2, 3; Reporter RATTLER, 3; Bird Club, 2; Triangular Debate, 2; Girl Reserves, 3; Ho'Mart Club, 3; Program Committee, 3.

If you happen to have seen a whole pile of books moving down the street, Maude was under them. She is an excellent student—outside of a math. room—but that pile of books is only a camouflage, for she's one fine sport and steady rooter for everything that R. H. S. and Carolina participate in, and if studies can be dodged, she dodges 'em.

Maude tried to leave us this year, but got lonely and came back to find her old place ready and waiting.

ARMSTRONG STOCKARD—“HUMPTY”

“It is to do, to act, and to perform.”

Armstrong is a good student and a fine citizen. He believes and supports his idea that outside life must never interfere with school work—a fine theory which few of us practice. “Humpty”, however, knows when to stop studying, and “knows his stuff” in the North Raleigh baseball team.

THERESA TEISER

"Her glossy hair was clustered o'er her brow Bright with intelligence, fair and smooth."

Morson Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Girl Scout, 2; Girl Reserves, 3; Class Basketball Squad, 3; Ho'Mart Club, 3; Dramatic Club, 3; French Club, 3; Cartoonist Purple and Gold, 3 (Junior Edition); Art Editor RATTLER, 4; Art Editor Purple and Gold, 4; Athletic Association, 2, 3, 4.

Theresa is our artist. Her high school career is generously sprinkled with her services in the art line, and, although she has plenty of other good qualities, this one stands out so that we know Mr H. C. Christy, Mr. H. Fisher, and the others will soon run their names in the want columns. We are certain of Theresa's fame, and she has the best wishes of the class in anything she may undertake.

CLOYCE ROBERT TEW

"Speech is reason's brother, and kingly prerogative of man."

Hi-Y Club, 3, 4; Orchestra, 1, 2, 3, 4; Lewis Literary Society, 2, 3, 4; Science Club, 3, 4; Triangular Debate, 3, 4; Debating Club, 3; Athletic Association, 2, 3, 4; Dramatic Club, 3; School Play, 3; Associate Editor RATTLER, 4; Business Manager Purple and Gold, 4; Joke Editor Purple and Gold, 3.

Here we have Cicero's greatest rival. In fact, Cloyce is, just now, very much superior to Cicero—his method and language being very wide-awake, while Cicero's lives only to haunt our dreams. Cloyce has represented us well in inter-school debates, and has enlivened the Lewis Literary Society meetings considerably. We should expect to make a great statesman of him, but he claims a keener interest in the medical profession. Whatever he may choose in after life, we all wish him the success we know will be his.

ANNE ELIZABETH THOMAS—"LITTLE GIRL",

"She bows at the shrine of athletics."

Morson Literary Society, 2, 3; Girl Reserves, 3; Girl Scouts, 2; Girls' State Athletic Association, 3, 4; R. H. S. Athletic Association, 2, 3; Cheer Leader, 4; Track, 3; Tennis, 3; Baseball, 3; Manager, 3; Varsity Basketball, 3, 4; Captain, 3; Class Basketball, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club, 4.

Ever go to an R. H. S. game? Of course! Ever see "Little Girl?" Certainly! Ever hear "Little Girl" lead yells? Surely! Isn't she there with the goods? "You bet!" Not only does "Little Girl" shine on the side lines, but our girls' basketball team finds her agility of no little value. Well, in what way isn't she valuable? She's another of our cheerful members, and spreads her cheer in a lavish style. With a cheerful personality always at one's beck and call one can do anything—all right "Little Girl."

JANE ELIZABETH TRENT—"DICK"

"Oh, she dances such a way."

Morson Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club, 1, 4; Class Basketball, 3.

When there is any dancing to be done around Raleigh High School, we always call in Janie. Everyone knows how well she displayed her talent in the Morson Literary Vaudeville. Janie also has one of the biggest hearts in the world, and is always kind and courteous to her classmates. She is a genius at making excuses for her absence from typewriting class. Here's hoping that life in the future will be just as kind and generous to Janie as she has been to us.

ANNA BELLE WARREN

"A good disposition I prefer to gold."

Civic League, 2; Orchestra, 1; Morson Literary Society, 1, 2, 3; Athletic Association, 2, 3; Glee Club, 1; Girl Reserves, 3.

Eleven years of perfect attendance never late and never tardy in that length of time. Such a record is Anna Belle's, and it is the best in R. H. S. The record is a fine reflection of Anna Belle's character, steady and lasting. On the "humdrum" side of school life, she creditably manages her studies, and on the athletic side is her hearty support. We understand that Carolina also enjoys her strong support, and the "cards" predict orange blossoms.

ERMA ELIZABETH WILLIAMS

"A good name is better than precious ointment."

Morson Literary Society, 1, 2, 4; Glee Club, 1, 4; Girl Scout, 2; Athletic Association, 2.

Every once in a while we meet people whom the longer we know the better we like. Erma is one of these. Probably the most outstanding of her numerous qualities is her unselfish, lovable disposition. We find her quiet and reserved, but underneath her reticence we know that she is every bit genuine, with a friendship that proves real, lasting, and true.

JOSEPH SPEED WILLIAMS—"SPEED"

"A merry boy they called him then"—and now and forever.

L. H. S.—Mathew Davis Literary Society. R. H. S.—Lewis Literary Society, 4; Debating Club, 4; Senior Play, 4; Athletic Association, 4.

Speed certainly lived up to his name in making friends here. We came one morning and found him in our Senior room. Fifteen minutes later we were perfectly certain we'd known him since time began. Always looking for fun, Speed generally finds it, and is always ready to lead us to Joy's shrine. With all this, Speed manages to keep his lessons going, and so we'll look for him speed-ing on the highway of success.

TEMPIE WILLIAMS—"TEMPIE GEE"

"She thinks the world was made for fun and frolic."

Louisburg.—Martha Washington Literary Society, 1, 2; Secretary, 1; President, 2; Triangular Debate, 2, 3; Girls' Basketball Squad, 3; Charles B. Aycock Literary Society, 3; President, 3. R. H. S.—Glee Club, 4; Morson Literary Society, 4; Evening Times Reporter, 4; Debating Club, 4; Senior Play, 4.

One never knows how much fun can be bundled into one little person until one meets Tempie—so it was with '23. Tempie couldn't be spared at Louisburg until this year, and how we can ever part with her is a problem too great for us. Though so new here, she has bound herself to us very securely with her rollicking fun and cheerful disposition. As "Cinderella" in our Senior play, she was enough to make poor princes of us all, for "to see her was to love her." Tempie has our best wishes for a future which we know holds only the best for her.

JAMES MARION WILLIAMSON—"JIM"

*"I have bought
Golden opinion from all sorts of people."*

Lewis Literary Society, 1, 4; President, 4; Athletic Association, 1, 2, 3, 4; Bird Club, 2; Science Club, 3; Hi-Y, 3, 4; Representative of Junior Red Cross, 4.

Jim has been an active member of the Lewis Literary Society and, as its president, has made this a successful year. What's more, he has managed our Annual in a manner that would recommend him as a capable person to any business man in America. With that recommendation we send him forth to add his name to R. H. S.'s successful men.

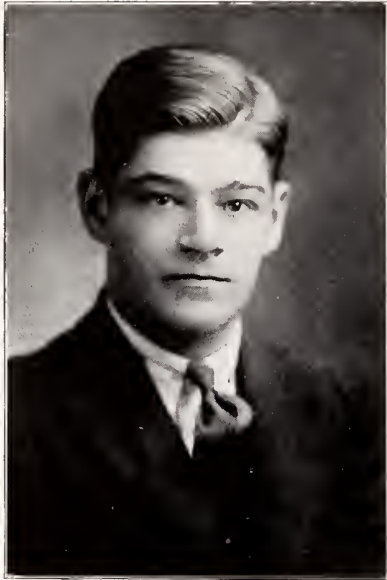

WILLIAM CORNELIUS WILLIAMSON, "W. C."

*"Life is a jest and all things show it,
I thought so once; but now I know it."*

Football Squad, 2; Team, 3, 4; "R" Club, 3, 4. Oh, but W. C. is a jolly old scout! When things are going wrong, he laughs, and the world laughs with him. W. C. struts an "R" which speaks well of him in its own way. The thing about him, however, which has won him so many friends, is his cheerful personality. He's always telling us that to "put one's troubles in a box and sit on 'em" is the best policy after all.

CLYDE LUDLOW WILSON—"NERVOUS"

"None but himself can be his parallel."

Hi-Y, 2, 3, 4; Lewis Literary Society, 3, 4; Athletic Association, 2, 3, 4.

"How about some chewing gum, Nervous?" You see "Nervous" has his chewing gum made especially for himself, but he's mighty generous. Clyde is going to become one of our Wake Forest men and, as such, expects to become a great business man. Good luck to you, "Nervous."

DAVID CRENSHAW WORTH

"A workman that needeth not to be ashamed."

Athletic Association, 2, 3, 4; Track, 3.

Did you see David's picture in the paper? Well, he's our Champion Corn and Pig Club member of North Carolina. He has won prizes at four State fairs. David comes all the way from the country to R. H. S., and that proves his ambitious character. He has, as statistics show, already laid the foundation of a successful farming career.

WILLIAM ARTHUR YOST, JR.—“BILL”

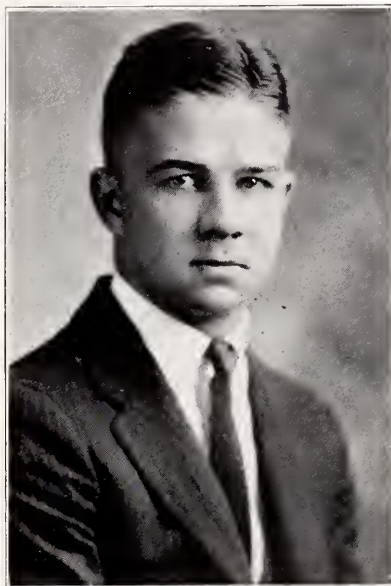

“Cl, he sits high in all the people's hearts.”

Athletic Association, 1, 2, 3, 4; Lewis Literary Society, 1, 2, 3, 4; Secretary-Treasurer, 2, 3, 4; Vice-President, 3; Hi-Y, 1, 2, 3, 4; Secretary-Treasurer, 3; Football Team, 3, 4; Manager, 4; Vice-President Class, 2; President Class, 3; Editor-in-Chief Purple and Gold, 4; Literary Editor Purple and Gold (Junior Edition); Cheer Squad, 2; Science Club, 3; Bird Club, 2; Associate Editor RATTLER 3; School Play, 3.

The last, but very far from least, is Bill—a literary “shark,” a football star, and just as jolly a piece of humanity as can be found.

All this, with a generous supply of sarcasm, makes Bill the most popular member of our Class. As editor of the Purple and Gold, Bill has put it over with a bang, his cheerful encouragement helping the staff as nothing else could. On the grid-iron we find his sturdy bulk plunging with the team. Bill has also helped in our plays, and—well, 'tain't nothin' Bill can't do, so we'll leave it there!

To the Class of '23

*With gladsome music thee we hail,
Dear class of '23,
Though we may roam far, far from home,
Thou ne'er forgot will be.*

*For one will sail far o'er the seas,
And one will rise to fame,
His guiding hand direct the land
That proudly claims his name.*

*This one will sing of God's great works,
From pebbles to the stars;
And this one, blest with great unrest,
Will fight his way to Mars.*

*But, though their praises may be sung
By men from pole to pole,
No distant land, no foreign strand
Will be the longed for goal.*

*Some guiding force will make them seek
Their schoolday friends once more;
The old content thy friendship lent
On Carolina's shore.*

*So, hail to thee, our honored class,
And honored mayest thou be
In each one's heart, as now we part,
Dear class of '23.*

CICILY C. BROWN, '23.

Senior Class History

AT last! We've passed the fourth milepost—arrived at the end of the rainbow, the day we have longed for so long! It isn't so wonderful after all. People still walk right side up, the sky is still blue, water is still wet. We could never realize that conditions could be the same on this wonderful day.

How well do I remember the balmy September morning when I first enrolled in the High School! I was accosted at the door by a cute little boy with rosy cheeks, who asked me if I expected to take Latin. It later developed that this was none other than "Squat" Parham, who soon became famous as the one and only reliable bell-ringer. And I might pause here to remark that if anyone desires a lesson in dependability and faithfulness he would do well to follow the career of Louis Parham.

"We came, we saw, we conquered(?)"—Algebra, Latin, English, French, Geometry, Trigonometry, everything—and now we feel that we are the most important and illustrious people on this suddenly small planet. Julius Cæsar, in his most glorious moment, never felt any better than we do now. And still, well, we just feel that something is missing, that indefinable something that spoils so many otherwise happy occasions—ah, I have it—we're thinking of how we must leave our classmates and go out into the hard and cruel vale of tears. We never realized before with what keen regret we would part from our classmates, our teachers, and our erstwhile acquaintances who have meant so much to us and form such a large part of the world in which we had moved in the last four years.

Ahem!—er—pardon this, please—our class always was "the stuff," from the day we timidly and with downcast eyes entered this brain gymnasium until this good day, when we emerge from our three years of patient and unremitting toil into the sunlight of admiration of the Freshmen and Sophs, and the hardly concealed envy of the Juniors.

To begin with, we were probably the "greenest" bunch of Freshies that ever entered this school—I only mention this by way of contrast to emphasize the degree of our accomplishment. The members of the class immediately made manifest their presence by joining the literary societies, playing in the orchestra, assisting in the play, which, incidentally, was a great success, and several Freshmen made good showings on the football team.

But this was only a starter. By the time we were Sophs we had all entered seriously into the life of the school, being well represented in the literary societies, the different teams and the athletic association. And, to show our generosity, which was at that time not widely known, we gave the Freshmen a party. Ahem!—not at all, thank you.

Up to this time we had no one to "lord over" except the Freshmen. We did this to the fullest, having forgotten entirely the fact that we had once been young and ignorant ourselves. Now we had come to be Juniors, and smiled contemptuously when we saw some newly-freed-from-bondage Sophomore terrorizing some innocent and trembling Freshman.

We were now second only to the Seniors, but they reminded us of this sad and lamentable fact occasionally to prevent our becoming too "chesty." We were more interested in school life now than ever before, especially as it had been rumored that we would be the first class to graduate from the new building, but, as it developed later, to use Iona Nelson's method of expressing it, "we were not even to enjoy the distinction of being the last one to graduate from the old one."

We made a hard fight for the class championship in basketball, but were defeated by Mr. Wessinger's Sophomore class, which class has contributed greatly to the success of athletics in the past two years.

Our class was well represented that year in the Triangular Debate by Willa Gray, Catherine Cox and Cloyce Tew. We furnished two regulars on the basketball team, and seven men on the football squad.

Very proudly and dignifiedly, on our last opening day, we walked into the old knowledge factory in realization of our arrival at Seniors' state. But accompanying this haughty thought was the sad realization that this was our last year; and though we had fretted and fumed at study and discipline, deep down in our hearts we knew that we loved our school, and thought it the best in the world. We realized, for the first time, the significance of the class rings we wore.

But to get away from this sad stuff, our Senior year was by far our most happy and successful one. The athletic teams were largely composed of Seniors, although other classes furnished men, and by their splendid spirit and attendance at the games helped to make the teams successful. We were again represented in the Triangular Debate by Catherine Cox and Cloyce Tew, who had been on the team the year before. We tried, and with the help and coöperation of the other classes, made a success of our magazine, "The Purple and Gold."

The Senior play, Sir James M. Barrie's "A Kiss for Cinderella," due to the able and unfaltering efforts of Miss Russell, was said to be the best amateur theatrical performance that has ever been staged in our city.

I take this occasion, in behalf of the graduating class, to express our appreciation of our instructors, and to thank them for the splendid training and the high ideals that they have set before us. We actually realize now that the tasks they imposed and the rules they enforced were really for our own good.

We are happy to be freed from the duties of school life, though for some it means only more school at some college, but we are genuinely sorry to lose the association of our schoolmates and our teachers. We feel, however, that we are immeasurably better equipped to face the problems that lie before us for having spent the four years in this school.

NORTH CAROLINA
RALEIGH
JUNE 9, 1923.

WE, the class of nineteen hundred and twenty-three, being in full possession of our faculties and realizing that not many days hence we shall leave these beloved Walls of Learning and all their associations for a newer, perhaps fairer life; and realizing that all our property and numerous possessions, though worn and misused, must be disposed of, do hereby make known our last will and testament.

I. To the incoming Senior class, the class of '23 wills all its numerous virtues, talents, qualities and eccentricities which characterize it and make it stand out as a justly distinguished body. Along with these it also bestows its dignity and its many Senior privileges, especially those which Miss Mial has sponsored.

II. Since "to him that hath shall be given" we bestow the singular artistic talent of Theresa Teiser on Olive Fountain, Nell Currin's talkativeness on Catherine Carter, and John Crinkley's brains on David Young.

III. To the Faculty we bequeath twenty-five Seniors who never heard of senior cynicism, would never think of doing anything except study, and wouldn't know a senior privilege if they stepped on it. We suppose there are such things in the world, but as we never came in touch with more than one of them, we leave it to the teachers to seek them out.

IV. To the incoming Virgil class we will our jacks and a pamphlet entitled "How to Keep the Teacher's Mind off the Subject" by John Crinkley. This is a very excellent treatise, which, although not yet published, we are sure will be of great value to the class of '24 in mastering that dear and delightful subject, the "Æneid."

V. We bequeath to the class of '43 the privilege of laying the corner-stone of a new Raleigh High School.

VI. To the Morson Literary Society we will as much gold chalk as it needs for the coming year, provided, of course, that the Publicity Committee either keeps it strung around her neck or has a special safe made for it.

VII. To Conway Murchison of the Junior class we bequeath the great privilege which has been accorded Louis Parham these many years, namely, that of ringing the school bell.

VIII. To Miss Edith Norris we bequeath, with our best wishes for success, a set of Wallace's "Get Thin to Music" records. For information concerning these we refer you to Miss Tempie Williams of the class of '23.

IX. To the ambitious aspiring Junior class we leave our Senior room in the church where we spent our last year together; a place of unforgettable memories and the thing we find hardest of all to relinquish. But we feel better hands could not be found to leave it in, and we know that we will be more than amply rewarded if the incoming class derives only half the enjoyment from it that we have.

X. To the incoming Sophomores we leave the class of '27, in the fond hope that they may, by chance, remember their own first year and their first hopes and fears. We wish you the best of luck, dear class of '27, in your studies, in your—teachers, and all your outside activities. May you grow to be the pride of your town and of your high school, and may you always be successful in everything you undertake in school or out.

XI. To those hard-working students who stand for the school in the magazine and Annual we affectionately bequeath the little two by four piece of space that is called the Annual room. The walls are lined with the latest novels, among which are "The Æneid," "Plane Geometry" and "Le Premier Livre," half of which will probably be devoured by the rats before next fall. We hope that some of the aspiring Latin students who have a fondness for poetry may find some inspiration in the beautiful Grecian architecture which adorns the ceiling in such lovely curves, namely, the furnace pipes. But the Annual room has been really the greatest privilege and pleasure yet accorded to the members of the class of '23, and one which has certainly been appreciated to the fullest extent.

XII. As executors of this last will and testament we name Jimmy Thevis and Edgar Worth, in order that we may rest in peace in the assurance that our esteemed and valued possessions will be intrusted in safe and capable hands and will pass on to our respective heirs in the order and manner which we have stated.

Junior Class History

ALIO, the Muse of History, appeared to be very much puzzled one morning as she sat at her accustomed place at Jove's feet. The mail had just come, and she was reading the latest copy of the "Radio Weekly."

"Father," she said, without taking her eyes from her sheet.

"Well, daughter, what is it?" indulgently answered her father, the king of gods and men, "Something like war or that Einstein theory—surely nothing like that?"

"Now, father, such things are mere bubbles on the surface of time. You know history has such a habit of repeating itself, that at times I have been considerably bored, but now it seems that something really stimulating and refreshing is about to happen. It is the class of '24 at the High School at Raleigh. I have listened in quite a few times and have heard that they are going forward with a rush.

"In the school year of '20-'21, they started their career. Like other Freshmen, they were rather "green" but even then, I could see that they were about the best group of folk ever. When the first school bells rang for the '21-'22 term they came to make things hum and to air their new dignity as Sophomores, and through the whole year kept pushing their way to the front ranks in their school affairs."

"Now they are juniors—and such a class never before existed! This is some of the news I've gathered about them. Some of the young women, Katherine Carter, Frances Gibson and Susan Jolly are learning to argue with other reasons than "because." Sue Mowery, Lucy Scott and Pattie Chappell are well known athletes. Among the most distinguished Radio Doctors are J. R. Seerest, Frank Johnson, John Evans, Killian Barwick, and Everrette Browne. Frank Johnson tells everybody he sees, "Diamond me no diamond." Ah, he has me guessing there. "Hunky" Waring and Roy Arthur are already football heroes. "Hank" Young, Conway Murchison and "Onyx" Crinkley are coming to the front in basketball and they will certainly shine next year.

"Jimmy Thevis holds the giggling championship—won from the girls, he claims. Martha Maynard's chief indoor sport is humming "The Rosary" in chemistry lab. In the gossip sections I see that Ivan Hardesty, Joe Currin, John Riley and Stanhope Dunn are wearing the latest in sport togs—for whose benefit, I wonder? Mary Margaret Wray and Louise White have aspired to oust Longfellow and Poe from the Hall of Fame, while Frances Watson is ready to show Isador Duncan and Pavlowa a thing or two about dancing. I'll bet that Terpsichore will be jealous, for Phyllis Albright and Katherine Hardesty can easily put any other minstrel performers to shame.

"There are lots of others," she said as she glanced over the pages. Suddenly she stopped and her smile faded as she read the name of Marion Allison and her head bowed lower to hide the tears that flooded her eyes.

She laid aside the volume and started about the duties that would be hers until another year should bring the last High School story of the class of '24.

Sophomore Class History

WE came last September with proud hearts—how different were our feelings from those of one short year before! Now, we were sophomores and that eventful Freshman year was only a memory! Those first days of hopeless wandering through halls; the terror that first filled us as we approached those fearful Sophomores; the Sophomore-Freshman party which partially wiped out those fears; the successful presentation of Scott's "Lady of the Lake" for the benefit of the Russian Relief Fund; those class basketball games which taught the meaning of class spirit, and the heart-breaking defeat, and the final games; the stunt night performance in which we pretended to be seniors at our graduation exercises and received "pink slips," (the predecessor of the workslip), for diplomas; our pride when four of our members were chosen to play in the school play—minor parts, it is true, but nevertheless quite a distinction—all these events have gone into the past, all these joys and the thousands of petty little troubles have filed almost unnoticed into our memories.

But now! We're Sophs! No more to be teased and lorded over! We entered into our inheritance with pride, and, oh, what a joyful feeling it is to tease the poor "Fresh."

We have discovered some remarkable artistic talent in our class. Dallas Sherman has assisted much in the success of the "Purple and Gold" and Frank Terrell's name appears on many of "THE RATTLER" drawings. We have distinguished ourselves in these two years in athletic, dramatic and artistic lines, and we look forward to the day when we will come back as jolly, care-free Juniors to develop and broaden our talents.

FRANK HOWELL, Historian.

Baby Sophs or Grown Freshmen?

"Neither fish, fowl, nor good red herring."

*Whoever thinks it fine to be sent up in the "middle,"
Well, that is just where they "fiddle."
We thought it mighty fine to land at the high school Christmas time;
We knew we were Freshmen and we were in luck,
But when it came time to have the pictures "tuck,"
Well, we couldn't figger out just where we'd be
When we would get the Annual for the folks to see.
Of course, what we want isn't what we "ain't,"
'Cause some day each of us must be a saint.
We surely are sorry to be in this awful plight
After all our studying and figuring day and night.
We certainly would like to know just where we'll be.
We think now we are without name or place—just up a tree.
According to the class pictures we are left completely out.
Of course, we are not going to cry or stand around and pout.
We came to the high school to win fame,
And we are certainly not going to hang our heads in shame.
If we can't get in line and be properly classified,
We'll have an extra Annual, and then we will be satisfied.*

Freshmen Class History

ON September 9, 1922, R. H. S. was crowded with timid boys and girls--the class of '26.

In the beginning of the fall term the following officers were elected:

President, Paul Tillery

Vice-President, Mary Fleming

Our class has gone out one hundred percent strong in every way it could. We have taken an active part in all the societies, and in athletics we have been "Johnnie on the spot." Even though we did not have great success in winning the class basketball championship, we put up a hard fight that showed folks that '26 is a class to be respected.

At first our hearts trembled with fear of the Sophomores who were forever teasing us about being so "green."

We had a very nice Christmas party at which everyone enjoyed every minute of the time. Miss Eliza was there, and for that night pretended to be a classmate and not a French teacher. We are sure that wherever she goes one may expect a good time.

Mid-year exams caused a lot of excitement. Each Freshman mind was crowded with Latin verbs and mathematical rules. After the grades of the fall term were straightened out, those who had managed to cram enough to enable them to answer the majority of the questions, plunged one step nearer their goal, as Sophs. It is our ambition, you see, to tease the class of '27 as the class of '25 has teased us.

To see a few girls bunch up in a corner and discuss a dignified Senior, or boy or two raving over a basketball star, causes a great deal of amusement among the upper classmen, because they know it is always a Freshman's dream to be a Senior. Some day we will entertain that dignity and show ol' R. H. S. what great things '26 is capable of.

DAISY BALL, Historian.

The Daily Grind at Raleigh High

*I get up early in the morning,
At eight—just think of that!
I'm so afraid I won't get up
In time to find my hat.*

*We must be at school by ten to nine,
Or else—detention room,
Where one must sit and fold one's hands.
No studying—dreadful doom.*

*We sit on English class and yawn
And laugh, trochaic tetrameter.
Miss Tillett reads—assigns a theme.
The bell—we have to leave her.*

*Our history class is like unto
The noble Legislature,
Where we may read and talk at ease
To suit our human nature.*

*At Civics class we firmly think
We'll have a nervous breakdown.
To listen to a teacher read
Will drive us to the ground.*

*There's no one knows what energy
Geometry takes from us,
We actually have to go to the board—
Our hair gets in a muss!*

*I have only an hour for lunch,
No wonder I'm late for French.
Being late is a habit that will hurt
My character a few years hence.*

*Chemistry class is a fearful strain,
When one has no inside dope
Where Mr. Roller might pop a test,
And it does no good to mope.*

*Study Hall takes up forty-five minutes
Of life's precious time—
And around this time of day
We notice the dust and grime.*

*So ye who've read this pitiful tale
And listened to this ditty,
You see how an exhausted High School girl
Needs sympathetic pity.*

The Season

THE season of 1922 was one of the most successful since 1915. With the majority of the letter men back, Coach Torgan had things ready to begin work a few days after his arrival. The call for candidates for a trip to Lakeview was issued. The chief motive for the ten-day camp there, was to get discipline and good-fellowship worked up among the boys. They left Raleigh August 24 and returned September 3, ready for the real fundamentals that are needed to make a winning team. Realizing the hard schedule that was before them, the boys scrimmaged in earnest.

The first game was with Red Oak, and Raleigh started her season with a clean-cut victory, 12-0. This gave the team the new courage that could not be denied and so they played Smithfield and came out with the same score as the previous game. They then journeyed on to Sanford where they met their first defeat—the score being 13-7. It was the best game of the season, for it brought the team's fighting spirit to the top and the following Friday they won from Fayetteville, North Carolina State Champions of 1921, with a 24-6 score. The next tour ended at Henderson where greetings were exchanged, and the hope expressed that they would have a more successful game next year. We had won, 13-6. Rocky Mount wanted to see what they could do, so the following week there was another game, and Raleigh went home with the best end of 21-0 score.

This ended the preliminaries to the championship series. Raleigh first met Henderson. It was the Henderson team that the Capital team had met before, but they were prepared to fight, and the game ended in a scoreless tie. The following Tuesday the teams met at Wake Forest to determine which was the better team, and when the game ended Raleigh had the "sweet" end of the 16-6 score. Raleigh's next game, therefore, was with Durham. In the hardest fought game of the season, Durham won in the last quarter, 12-7, and put Raleigh out of the championship race.

Fayetteville was certain she could beat us, but we were certain of the contrary, and the boys telegraphed back an 18-0 victory. The last game was at Norfolk, where all efforts proved in vain, and Maury High won, 19-0. It was the first game of the season in which Raleigh failed to score, and was the third defeat out of eleven games—a brilliant record, of which R. H. S. is justly proud.

Football

It's the best game in the whole wide world,
 Football!
 It sets your heart and head in a whirl,
 Football!
 And when our boys come down that line,
 Looking so big and strong and fine,
 The thrill is great—you friends of mine—
 Football!

Right halfback and captain, too,
 Coley!
 You know what fine things he can do,
 Coley!
 A reg'lar sure 'nough football man,
 Who does the very best he can,
 And let me say that's always gran'—
 Coley!

Then our left halfback gets that ball—
 Hiner!
 When he digs right through that man-made wall,
 Yes, Hiner!
 And when he tears on toward that goal,
 With the ball clutched safely in his hold,
 Gee! Don't you pray with all your soul
 For Hiner?

And when our right end starts to fighting,
 "D"!
 And runs around like blue, greased lightning,
 "D"!
 When he thinks it's time to go,
 Things henceforth surely won't be slow,
 And the good Lord help you—look out fo'
 It's "D"!

A regular fellow plays left end—
 Ward!
 He sure is one of our best men,
 Ward!
 Ever ready, fit and trim,
 Plays the game with conquering vim,
 Cheerful—nice old boy—that's him—
 Ward!

And there's a tackle—has the name of
 "Hunky"!
 And something else he's got is fame,
 "Hunky"!
 He hits 'em hard, an' hits 'em low,
 He holds 'em tight—won't let 'em go,
 Gee! What would we do if there were no
 "Hunky"!

Left tackle surely is a gem,
 Seligson!
 Plays with determination grim,
 Seligson!
 He is the stuff—he sure can play,
 Many times he saves the day,
 He's some crack tackle, I'll say,
 Seligson!

The left guard is another dandy,
 Yost!
 Always there to come in handy—
 Yost!
 We'll all admit he sure can play;
 He stays right in the thickest fray,
 And holds the enemy at bay—
 Yost!

Another good one? Well, I guess,
 Bagwell!
 He sure puts out for R. H. S.,
 Bagwell!
 He is the nice and quiet kind,
 He plays football and plays it fine;
 He's one of the best men in the line,
 Bagwell!

Our center plays a clean, hard game,
 Williamson!
 To win the game is his big aim,
 Williamson!
 He does his part, and does it right,
 He surely does put up a fight,
 He always works with all his might—
 Williamson!

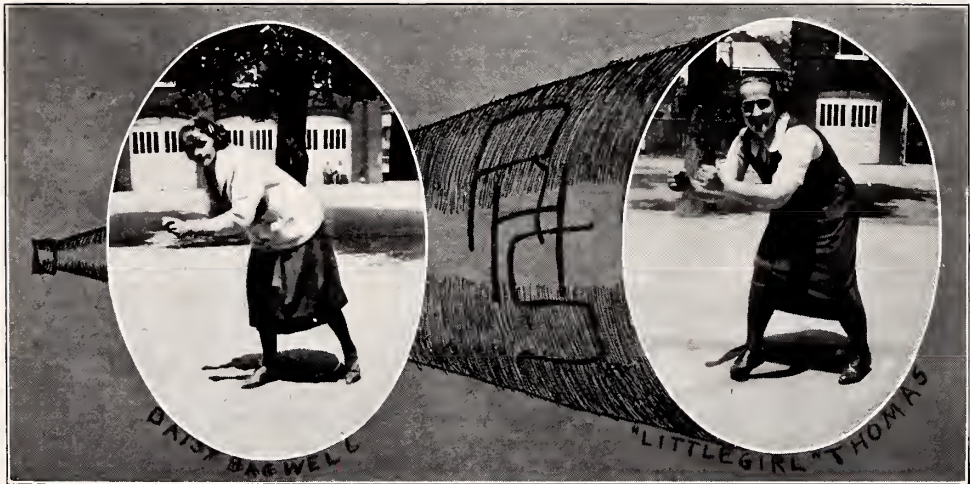

And there's our fullback—nice old boy,
 Uzzle!
 To see him play is sure a joy,
 Uzzle!
 He says, "C'mon, boys, now let's go!"—
 Then blocks the assault of the foe,
 His motto's good—"Goalward, Ho!"
 Uzzle!

Our quarterback is fine, I'll say,
 Arthur!
 He plays ball better every day,
 Arthur!
 And when we're overcome with fear
 Because the enemy comes too near,
 Just at the right time he'll appear—
 Arthur!

And then there comes the other crew,
 Subs!
 They sure can play good football, too,
 Subs!
 They're the stuff—we couldn't do without 'em.
 There's something big and fine about 'em—
 Subs!

If ever there was a fool—it's "I'm,"
 For the mere idea of making a rhyme
 To describe a thing so great and sublime
 As football!

—Louise White, '24.

 So cheer and fight with all your might!

Extracts From a Diary

Here we are to begin the basketball season of '22-'23! "Hunky," "Hooker," "Hank," "Fuzzy," "Skeet," "Izzy," "Oscar," "Onnex," and Leo are out to make our season a success. Come on, Raleigh, let's go!

Dec. 22.—Played Clayton at the "Y" today. We've started with "colors flying;" the game was ours, 59-21.

Dec. 29.—The Alumni decided to test our strength today, and we 'spect they're satisfied that any record that they made will be kept and added to, for we claim the game which ended 34-20.

Jan. 4.—Tonight we took a little joy-ride to Apex, where we decided to show off our team. The 23-7 score was enough to prove that we were the best of the contesting teams. Now we look forward to our first big game, with all prospects for success.

Jan. 12.—Oh, Boy! Tonight we were the "lions" on the auditorium "arena!" Just guess who the poor victims were? Durham's five! The score was 23-22 in our favor in the last few minutes of the game. Durham got excited, and—well, the game was forfeited to Raleigh, 2-0. A hard fought game, and one that certainly ranks with the best high school games played on the auditorium court.

Jan. 19.—The "Whirlwind" is blowing strong—too strong for Smithfield, as tonight's 48-32 score amply proves. We are raging a mighty gale towards State honors.

Jan. 26.—Henderson thought to brave the "Whirlwind." The attempt was all in vain, for she was beaten back by the 46-18 tornado.

Jan. 27.—N. C. State Freshmen will hardly meet us again this year, since they were blown back to the College rather too harshly, clinging to the small end of the 34-9 score. Man! I mean we are proud of our "Whirlwind."

Feb. 1.—Nothing has yet been able to stop the mighty sweep of victories. Newbern was blown home on the weaker end of the 50-24 breeze.

Feb. 2.—Tonight there was a fine, clean game at Chapel Hill, but the "Whirlwind" couldn't blow over the stronghold of the University Freshmen. They blew back to Raleigh rather slowly, counting 22 against the fading voices of the Freshmen's 33 count.

Feb. 5.—We are not to be downed! Strengthened, it seems, by the defeat of the Chapel Hill game, we blew hard and heavy against Fayetteville, and the problem of getting the best end of 22-10 score is theirs to solve as best they can.

Feb. 7.—Well! we started our trip, but we blew too weakly tonight and gave Smithfield a victory. Better luck next time.

Feb. 8.—Our gale seems to have lost its pep. If only we could hear the girls yelling, "It's pep! It's pep! Doggone it, don't lose it." Newbern played hard, and the "Big Breeze" couldn't blow hard enough to go over the 29-27 score.

Feb. 9.—Hurrah! Here we are! I knew we could do it! We blew up good and strong, and Greenville swayed and broke under the force of the "Whirlwind," as we blew up 27 points to our opponents' 16.

Feb. 10.—We are still blowing good news back home. Tonight we sent a big breeze home to tell them all that Washington lost to us, 32-13. Back home we go, to start the championship series.

Feb. 17.—Double-headed victory tonight! We played Lucama in the first championship game, and added the 53-13 score to our victories. The Trinity Freshmen went down with the Lucama quint by a 26-21 score.

Feb. 24.—Wilson was added to our vanquished foe, and our Oak City "Whirlwind" breezed its end of the score to 46 against Wilson's 20.

Feb. 28.—The tide that seems so high in our favor went out tonight when we met our neighbors, the Durham five. Chapel Hill seems to be our Waterloo, for, when the whistle blew, the score board read defeat for us, since our "Whirlwind" had only 19 points to its credit, while Durham had 28.

Again we have lost the championship, but Raleigh has seen one of the best teams R. H. S. has had for some time, and the "Whirlwind" has blown itself into a prominent place in the Old North State. We are proud of it, and we look toward the '23-'24 season with well-founded hopes for the championship.

Girls' Athletics

The year 1923 brought about much more interest in girls' athletics than ever before. More girls have been reached because of the new grading system for girls' athletics.

The Girls' State Athletic Association, which has been organized by the leading high schools of the State, gives girls the privilege of working on the point system. For a certain number of points, a monogram is awarded by the Association. Points are given to the girls for taking part in any of the Field Day events.

Because of the inadequate conditions for other sports, most of the interest for girls' athletics has been centered in basketball. Although practice for this sport was carried on under great handicaps, the team this year proved to be quite equal to the champions of last year, in spite of the fact that it did not keep the title.

The first game, with Wilson, was a defeat, but it served to make us that much more determined that we would fight to attain last year's record. In our next game, we downed the Methodist Orphanage, 41-11, and the following week we defeated Cary High. Greensboro beat us in our next game, 24-18. After a week of stiff practice we counteracted that defeat by winning from Oxford, 22-18. Following this, we won twelve straight victories, but were finally defeated in the championship series by Winston-Salem, the score being 23-22.

The team, as a whole, was not surpassed by any in the State. Mowery, Scott, and Chappell served well in their positions as forwards, and were largely responsible for this string of victories. Thomas, Bagwell, and Willard made up the opposition. Their splendid team work and the excellent floor work of Captain Delamater and of Womble were the main features of the games.

Field Day, with the various forms of track and other minor sports, has become an annual event of great importance. The merchants of the Capital City cooperated, and offered the prizes awarded the winners of the events. These events and their winners were as follows:

GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM

Morson Literary Society

IN nineteen hundred and sixteen the Senior Class of Raleigh High School, with Mr. Phillips and Miss Sparrow, put their heads together and decided that the girls needed an organization which would raise the standard of scholarship in the school. Each girl who wished to be a member of this society was required to make a percentage of eighty-five in all her studies. About thirty were qualified to join at the first meeting.

It was decided that the society year should be divided into three terms, with different officers for each term. The first president was Marion Edwards, the second, Edith Russell, and the third, Natalie Coffey. Of these, the last named is the present faculty advisor of the society, and Miss Russell is also of the 1923 faculty.

This society has finally developed into a big, booming organization, the backbone of the girls' influence in our school and, although it is no longer one of the so-called honor societies, we know that the standard of scholarship and literary development is being steadily raised and held up by the work done in it.

Lewis Literary Society

The Lewis Literary Society was started in its career in 1910 by the Senior Class of that year. It was named in honor of R. H. Lewis, the founder. This society has not had as many members, nor has it been as popular with the boys as the Morson Literary Society has with the girls, because the majority of the boys do not go into the clubs and the societies. We know, however, that those who have supported it throughout these years have certainly derived a decided benefit from whatever work they may have put into it, and will some day be thankful because they learned their first debates and overcame their first attacks of "stage-fright" before the Lewis Literary Society.

Senior Prophecy

ON the first of June, 1943, the patrons of the Raleigh schools, having finally compromised their differences and agreed as to the location of the new Raleigh High School on the old site, (where there will be no obstacles, the old school having fallen), the secretary of the class of '23 called a class reunion for the great occasion of the laying of the corner-stone of the new Raleigh High School.

The class reunion was held in the magnificent building of the Progressive Club of Raleigh.

Dr. Arthur Peacock, president of the class, nationally known surgeon, who was to lay the corner-stone, called the meeting to order. Dr. Peacock suggested that each member of the class tell shortly the main details of his life since he was graduated from Raleigh High.

Mrs. Maud Blank nee Stinson, was the first to overcome her shyness and rise to her feet. Happily married, and known as an efficient housekeeper all over Raleigh, she is to be congratulated.

Joseph Berwanger arose next, and announced that together he and Lewis Rosenthal had organized the Berwanger & Rosenthal's Cash Emporium, and were doing extraordinarily well.

Catherine Cox is a lawyer of some distinction, handling affairs for such firms as Pearce & Tew, monument designers; Stallings & Mosser, expert plumbers, and Merritt & Holland (?), running a soda fountain.

Virgie Presnell and Olive Pittman have opened up a very original "Woman's Shop" on Fayetteville street (very exclusive).

Lynwood Robbins let modesty go, and proclaimed himself a famous football coach.

Speaking of athletics, Elizabeth Thomas and Daisy Bagwell, as the athletic directors at N. C. C. W., are doing splendid work.

Elmer Atkins and Ora Baker have a real office and are dentists for the class of '23.

Jim and W. C. Williamson are scientists at the State Department. Eustace Womble works there also.

Cicely Brown is almost as famous as Madame Currie in the world of scientists.

Hugh Crosby wanted to be a movie director, and has worked hard to get there.

John Crinkley teaches mathematics at State College, where Leo Bagwell got his training as a mechanical engineer.

Foy Lineberry is teaching at Murphy, and Mozelle Baker is a missionary. Jeannette Crowder is another teacher at Murphy, while Mae Blackwood and Carolyn Peacock run kindergartens.

Mary Craven is married and lives in Concord. Nell Currin lectures on "How to Keep Quiet Though Married."

Bruce Dixon is fast becoming well known as a poet.

John Lynch is rising as a diplomat, and is a minister from the United States to a South American country.

Louise Brockwell, with her sister, is on the concert stage, and Belva Vail Hutchinson is accompanist for a well-known singer.

Dick Justice is a trader, and he started by trading the future for the past.

Lillian Hilker runs a Beauty Shop, and has Mary Jones for an assistant.

Haywood Dixon is football coach at Carolina, which beat Yale this year.

A little colony of artists from Greenwich Village reported at the reunion—Laura Jones and Mary Lassiter, led by Theresa Teiser, who is quite famous.

James Brown is commander of the Salvation Army now, with Ernest Franklin as assistant.

David Worth is one of the most successful farmers in North Carolina, one of those "educated" ones.

Tempie Williams and Swannanoa Sears are acting; doing good work, they say, and Thelma Frazier is posing as a model.

McRaleigh Lane has gone into vaudeville work, and is a big hit, while Janie Trent and Dorothy Delamater are "the thing" in the latest Follies. Billy Utley is in New York, dancing, also.

Joe Williams is a doctor, with Jim Rowland a deadly rival.

Floy Rowe, Mary Beasley, Josephine Baker, Eva Gurley, Rosalie Hales and Birdie Riddle are such fine business women, in spite of their marrying, that the class of '23 is proud of them. Frances Handy, Ethel Mims and Evelyn Harris are private secretaries.

Tom Spence is a teacher at Carolina, and defends it mightily.

Quite a lot of girls are married, it seems. Anna Bell Warren, Thelma Peele, Willa Dean Lane, Mary Nease, and Naney McLeod have forsaken careers for homes.

Dixon Jordon is a naval officer.

Mary Gorman is one of the best journalists in the country, and frequently has articles in "The Atlantic Monthly," while Mary Glenn is a novelist who commands respect.

William Ball has gone into business with Clyde Wilson.

Virginia Penny, talented in art, is head buyer in a large New York concern.

Helen Cornwell and Alice Hedrick have both married. Elizabeth Brinkley has married, and is living in Cary.

Donald Beath is an expert on furs.

Dessie and Vada Council have taken charge of a girls' school in the South.

Gilbert Dorsett is pastor of the First Baptist Church, where Bill Yost is treasurer and deacon. (That's where our money goes.)

Armstrong Stoekard owns the Armstrong Heater Manufacturing Company.

Mamie Joe Russell succeeded Miss Mial as French teacher at the Raleigh High School.

Lloyd Eisenhart pitches for the New York Americans.

Billy Denton runs an automobile establishment.

Henry Coley is owner of the Grand Theater.

Iona Nelson is an excellent actress for such a young woman. She is expected to be a second Sarah Bernhardt.

Boyd Bynum coaches a second "Whirlwind Team" at Raleigh High.

Ellis Covington, perhaps inspired by the Senior play, has chosen nursing as her life work.

The members of the class seemed very well pleased with everything, and another reunion for the near future is prophesied.

A Modern Intelligence Test

(With apologies to the test sent out by U. N. C.)

FOUR WORLD'S RECORDS

ESTABLISHED BY

ISAAC PITMAN WRITERS

At the International Shorthand Contest, New London, Conn., Aug. 24, 1922, under the auspices of the National Shorthand Reporters Association, Mr. Nathan Behrin, an ISAAC PITMAN writer, won the WORLD'S SHORTHAND TROPHY CHAMPIONSHIP at 280 words per minute, breaking ALL PREVIOUS RECORDS WITH AN AVERAGE ACCURACY PERCENTAGE OF 99.48. Mr. Behrin was also first in the 240 word contest. Mr. Samuel Powsner, an ISAAC PITMAN writer, was first in the 220 test, and Mr. John Daly, an ISAAC PITMAN writer, was first in the 200 test.

OUT OF 17 CONTESTS 15 HAVE BEEN WON BY PITMAN WRITERS

These remarkable figures demonstrate conclusively and in the most convincing manner the superiority of the world-famous system invented by Isaac Pitman.

SOME MISTAKE

The telephone in a well-known surgeon's office rang and the doctor answered it. A voice inquired, "Who is this?"

The doctor readily recognized the voice of his seven-year-old son. Although an exceedingly busy man, he was always ready for a bit of fun, so he replied:

"The smartest man in the world."

ACHIEVEMENT

The goal of every ambitious man and firm is typified in the rapid growth of the Jahn & Ollier Engraving Company—the universal esteem in which their art and plates are held by the large national advertisers—and the enviable reputation for prompt deliveries which they enjoy.

Delivering this same high quality and careful personal supervision to schools has built up for us the largest college and high school annual engraving business in America—400 books yearly.

Thirty thousand square feet of floor space (4 floors) and over two hundred and fifty skilled employees are required to meet the constant demand for "J&O" commercial photographs, art, color process plates and photo engraving (one complete floor is devoted to color process work).

Intelligent supervision of all work by many skillful office service men eliminates your troubles. Sales service men sent everywhere.
